Motivator

The ultimate goal of the Army is success in battle. Your job is to help achieve that success. America may call upon you to lead and fight. You must be ready to lead and fight anywhere and under any condition. Your soldiers deserve a strong leader--a warrior leader--to train and lead them into combat. This means you must attain a high level of competence. Also, you must attain the highest level of professionalism by demonstrating all that the Soldier's Creed stands for. Not only must you demonstrate the warrior ethos, but you must also instill in your soldiers that the team consists of warriors. Warriors place the mission first; they never quit; and always train. They are discipline soldiers who are physically and mentally tough and proficient in maintaining their arms, equipment, and themselves. They must always stand ready to deploy, engage, and destroy the enemies of America and live the Army values, while setting the example of professionalism for the world to see.

Terminal Learning Objective

NOTE: Inform the students of the following Terminal Learning Objective requirements. At the completion of this lesson, you [the student] will:

Action:	Recognize the PLDC course contents and the background of each group member.
Conditions:	In a classroom environment.
Standards:	Recognized the PLDC course contents and introduced self to group.
